Welcome Back! Transitioning Back to In-Person Events

A little over a year ago we abruptly moved to a virtual world to stay connected. Despite the quick pivot to successfully meeting virtually, many people are ready to get back in the saddle of in-person activities. Virtual events offer many advantages and some are likely here to stay, but, the connection of in-person events simply cannot be replaced. We will begin to start up again, with some precautions staying in place.

- Consider leaving empty chairs between participants.
- Wear your mask until seated, then optional to leave it on or remove it.
- Take hand sanitizer, but there will also be some at each location.
- Of course, if you are not feeling up to par, please sit that event out.

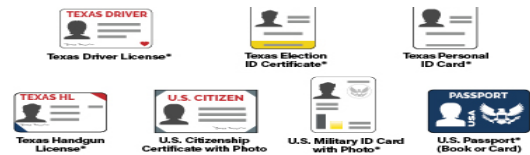

Recommendations from CDC for individuals that have been vaccinated.

- Visit with other fully vaccinated people indoors without wearing masks or physical distancing
- Visit with unvaccinated people from a single household who are at low risk for severe COVID-19 disease indoors without wearing masks or physical distancing
- Avoid large-sized in-person gatherings
- Get tested if experiencing COVID-19 symptoms
